Laurie Kehler is an author and speaker who helps women delight in nature and discover God's blessings and creativity in everyday life. Her messages enable women to:

- Discover how God is working in you, despite your past mistakes.

- Start the process of healing from painful moments in your life.
- Find strength and peace despite anxious times through the power of God's Word.
- Experience God through the power, beauty and wonder of His creation.

Laurie is the author of 4 books: Gardening Mercies - Finding God in your Garden, Wings of Mercy - Spiritual Reflections from the Birds of the Air, Advent Devotions for Busy Families and Great Dates with your Mate - Romantic Conversation Starters.

She went to the University of Wisconsin on a swimming scholarship and obtained a degree in journalism. After working three years in a San Francisco ad agency she headed off for adventure in Australia. There she continued working in advertising for international clients and spent her weekends scuba diving.

Her return to the States brought with it a romantic courtship which inspired Laurie to write Great Dates with your Mate, a book dedicated to facilitating positive, romantic communication between couples.

Her second book, Gardening Mercies grew from the comfort and inspiration she learned tending her garden during seven frustrating years of infertility. Her third book, Wings of Mercy, was a natural follow-up from her time spent in the garden.

Laurie has been a gardening columnist for HomeLife magazine and published in Focus on the Family and Redbook magazines.
